AGING, DISABILITY & TRANSIT SERVICES LAUNCHES
SHUTTLE SERVICE TO VA CLINIC IN KERNERSVILLE

(Reidsville, N.C.) Aging, Disability & Transit Services of Rockingham County is pleased to announce that its transportation program, RCATS, is beginning a shuttle service for veterans to the VA Clinic in Kernersville starting Monday, March 20, 2023.

This shuttle service will run every Monday, except for major Holidays, and will be free to any reserve member or Veteran of the United States Military. The pick-up points will be at all three Walmart Store locations in Rockingham County, and it will run several times throughout the day, allowing riders to pick the best time that accommodates their appointments. Riders can have one attendant/caregiver accompany them on the van, and pre-scheduling is required through the RCATS office, as the service is first come, first serve.

“It means so much to all of us here to be able to provide a service that gives back to a population that has given so much for us.” said Meggan Odell, Transportation Director for Aging, Disability & Transit Services of Rockingham County. “This has been a long time coming, and we are excited to get it started.”

Brochures and fliers with the pick-up times from each Walmart location will be available for distribution, and more information is available by calling 336-347-2287, extensions 224 or 232.
